Bonelli Park to be Closed through Weekend

The Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation announces that the Puddingstone Reservoir at Frank G. Bonelli Regional Park in San Dimas will be closed to boating and other uses until at least Monday, November 3, 2003.

The park is being used as a base camp for U.S. Forest Service and Los Angeles County firefighters, as well as a water resource for water-dropping aircraft. The action is being taken at the request of the two agencies.

The base camp is currently housing 1,200 personnel who are fighting the vast fires in eastern Los Angeles County.

In the event that the fires are not brought under some containment by Monday, the closure may be extended.

For information concerning the status of the closure, please contact the Bonelli Park office at (909) 599-8411
